DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ogle et al. (5817024). Ogle et al. disclose an ultrasonic treatment instrument comprising an ultrasound transducer, which generates ultrasonic waves (col. 1 line 46), a battery to supply energy to a drive circuit (col. 3 lines 54-60, col. 4 line 57), a housing incorporating the ultrasonic transducer, the battery and the drive circuit (col. 3 lines 62-65, col. 4 lines 23-44), a probe having a distal end protruding from the housing and a part that is coupled with the ultrasonic transducer so that the ultrasonic waves are propagated by the probe outside the housing (col. 4 lines 16-21), a movable member operable by an operator (col. 3 lines 65-67, col. 4 lines 1-11), wherein the drive circuit is structured to drive the transducer responsive to the detection of movement of the movable member (col. 3 lines 34-50). The sensor circuit includes a switch for movement of the movable member and supplying energy from the battery to the drive circuit (col. 4 lines 9-11, col. 5 lines 13-25).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogle et al. in view of Salcudean et al. (6425865). Ogle et al. do not explicitly teach a torque sensor. In the same field of endeavor Salcudean et al. disclose an ultrasonic treatment instrument with a force-torque sensor embedded within an axis of rotation associated with the movable member measuring the forces and torques that are applied on the ultrasound probe (col. 7 lines 18-33, col. 8 lines 3-14). It would have therefore been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the teaching by Salcudean et al. to modify the teaching by Ogle et al. for the purpose of effectively coordinating the motion and forces of the probe (abstract).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO 892 for relevant references of interest.
